Next to the Mahabodhi Temple lies the Bodhi Tree, a descendent of the very tree under which the Buddha was enlightened, and the Jewel Walk, marking the place where the Buddha is said to have practiced walking meditation for seven days after his enlightenment.

The Barabar Caves are the oldest surviving rock-cut caves in India. As some of the caves have inscriptions attributed to the Buddhist emperor Ashoka and his grandson we are told that they date to the 3rd century BCE. The mirror polish finish of the interior granite surfaces and unique acoustic effects heighten the mystery of their true origin and purpose! We will discuss this as well as any comparisons to other sites we have explored worldwide.

January 10th - Day 5 Tuesday Nalanda & Rajgir \(Indian Pyramid\)

For over a thousand years Nalanda was the site of a grand university. Dedicated to the transfer of knowledge it had no equal. 10,000 students and 2,000 teachers dedicated themselves to Vedic and Buddhist studies. There are temples, meditation halls, living quarters for students and teachers, ponds and parks, along with an unequalled library. Also the site of pyramidal structures and other sacred architecture, this seat of ancient knowledge is a treasure trove waiting to be decoded.

Rajgir played a significant role in several episodes of the Mahabharata and was the capital of the kingdom of Magadha till the 5 century BCE. Its sacred landscape offers temples, caves and hot springs.

January 13th - Day 8 Friday The Mystical Lonar Crater

Today we take our a/c coach to explore Lonar Lake, one of the most fascinating but little known ancient sites of India.

Fifty thousand years ago a meteor struck the earth here creating a crater and eventually a lake with unusual properties. It is considered a place of great power and sacredness. The lake is surrounded by a total of 32 temples, each dignified with its own mythology and architectural character.

Small sweet water streams feed the lake which lies in a basalt impact structure and is uniquely both saline and alkaline. Unusual magnetic effects are known to exist and are alluded to in the mythology.

The very sacred Gomukh Temple is cited as the place where the god Vishnu defeated the demon Lonasura in mythology. In response to the pleas of the terrified people, Lord Vishnu pushed Lonasura back, deep into the Underworld with tremendous force, leaving the crater and the lake. The water of the lake is said to be mixed with his blood, and the salts occurring in it are the remains of his flesh.

We will experience the lake and its surroundings and visit some of the temples and bathing places. Overnight 4 or 5 star Hotel - Aurangabad (B, L)

January 14th - Day 9 Saturday Ajanta Caves

In 1819 an English officer hunting tiger stumbled upon this site of ancient wonder. We are told that it was 2,000 years ago that 30 Buddhist shrines, meditation halls and monasteries were cut from the living Basalt rock of a ravine which forms the rock wall of a river valley.

The Ajanta Caves face the South, however, due to its horse-shoe shape, however the individual caves each face different directions, possibly aligning with stellar and solar events. A treasure trove of architecture which reflects the Vedic cosmology, mathematics, painting and sculpture, all ancient spiritual sciences were put to the development of this very sacred site. We will examine the structure and discuss the historical dating of the site. Did this system of caves originally have a different purpose and are they more ancient then currently thought?

We will explore the caves where generations of monks meditated, as well as experience the acoustic qualities, the energies emanating from the rocks, and the many stories and mythologies depicted on the basalt walls.

Overnight 4 or 5 star Hotel - Aurangabad (B, L)

January 15th - Day 10 Sunday Ellora Caves and the amazing Kailash Temple

Today we will travel the short distance from Aurangabad to Ellora where an assemblage of shrines were excavated from a basalt rock wall. Official history dates it to the 6th to 9th century. Here we find 17 Hindu, 12 Buddhist and 5 Jain monuments.

Especially significant is the excavated Hindu temple called the Kailash Temple. It was carved out of a huge basalt cliff from the top down. Its architecture and sculpture reflect temple building traditions mostly connected those of Southern India. At the same time it is unique in its scope, layout and art. The mythological images depicted on the walls speak to cosmological processes and events - and the nature of our reality.

There are underground passages and water channels disappearing into the rock and many speak of ancient shafts that lead to underground chambers. Is this a pre-catastrophe sacred site which was reconstructed into the form of a Hindu temple by medieval Indian dynasties?

We will experience acoustic effects, see amazing stone work and feel the presence of ancient cosmic energies, spending the entire day at this breath-taking site, enabling us to explore all of its wonders.

Overnight 4 or 5 star Hotel - Aurangabad (B, L)

January 16th - Day 11 Monday Transfer to Mumbai and Lectures

After breakfast we will drive to the airport for our transfer to Mumbai. Upon arrival, we will check in to our hotel and have some relaxation time before we will present a Roundtable Discussion with Khemit School Team providing you an opportunity to ask questions. In the evening we will enjoy lectures by local experts.

Overnight 4 or 5 star Hotel - Mumbai (B,D)

January 17th - Day 12 Tuesday Elephanta Caves

Elephanta Island is the site of five Hindu and two Buddhist rock-cut structures. Of the many cave temples here, the Trimurti Cave is one of the grandest and represents the essence and pinnacle of the sacred art and spiritual vision of Hinduism. Local tradition holds that the caves are not man-made. Some credit the heroes of the Mahabharata, others the demon Banasura. Archaeology offers a between the late 5th to late 8th century AD.

We will stand face to face with the timeless mystery of Shiva, the Great Yogi, in the Trimurti Cave and reflect on the many mythological themes which represent cosmological and alchemical events and processes.

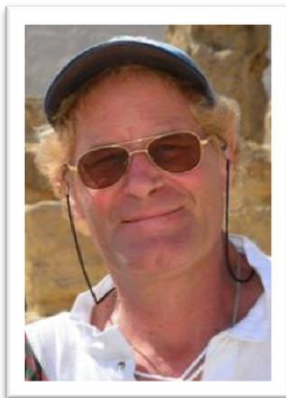

Afterwards, we'll enjoy a Farewell Dinner together. Overnight: 4 or 5 star Hotel - Mumbai (B,D)

January 18 th - Day 13 Wednesday Departure Mumbai

Suzan Moore

Geologist

Born and raised on the prairies of Saskatchewan Canada, Suzan developed a keen interest in nature, rocks and stars at an early age. That passion later led her to pursue a Geology degree with a minor in Astronomy. Suzan has been working as a Geologist in Canada for over 40 years. She originally worked in both mining and regional mapping of granites and metamorphic rocks in northern Saskatchewan and the North West Territories. She has been working for many years as a Sedimentological Specialist in the Oil and Gas industry in Calgary Alberta, specializing in the Jurassic of North-Western America.

She has always had an interest in Ancient Egypt and, since her first visit, returns regularly. After a trip to Peru in 2013 she developed a passion for understanding megalithic structures and the rocks they are carved from which led her to explore their implications in Egypt as well. She is currently trying to incorporate how weathering, time and source of the rocks affect the construction and preservation of many of the megalithic structures.

Suzan offers a unique and fresh perspective on the description, consistency and use of the various types of rocks and materials used in the ancient structures here.

Patricia presents lectures that illustrate how the ancients left us a blueprint that maps out the truth of the beauty, perfection and infinite possibilities that exist within and outside every one of us— if we are willing to view our world from a higher perspective, as symbolized by the eye of Horus.

Yousef Awyan

Combining the wisdom given to him by his father, Abd'el Hakim Awyan, with his own research; Yousef will speak to us of ancient Khemit, a technologically and spiritually advanced civilization that existed during a Golden Age in Egypt that pre-dated Dynastic Egypt, as we explore the powerful sites here. He will cite irrefutable evidence and amazing anomalies that challenge the dictates of mainstream Egyptology.

He is a gifted artist, sculptor and musician. As an accomplished musician, Yousef's keen ear for sound frequencies and pitch, enable him to tune in and find the resonant "tones" at many of the sacred areas and chambers found at the monuments and temples throughout Egypt. ## Subhashis Das

Speaker, Author, Researcher, Explorer

Subhashis Das was born on 16 July 1956 in the State of Assam, North East India. Although Subhashis main interests and studies were of general history, ancient races and civilisations, Indian tribes and their ancient myths, he was not particularly interested in megaliths until a sudden discovery of a dolmen near his hometown. He left his job to become a full-time 'Megalith Explorer'.

His first book, Sacred Stones in Indian Civilization was published in 2009 and is the first book detailing megaliths in his home state of Jharkhand, and one of the first of its kind published in India. His next book, The Unknown Prehistory of Primitive India, is slated to be released in July or August 2013 and will include a few complimentary pages by Dr Terence Meaden. Subhashis Das' website, Megaliths of India is the only one of its kind in the country and was created in August 2010. Other interests include music, spiritualism, photography, writing poems and sketching.

Subhashis Das has discovered countless primitive megaliths across India, many of which are his own study sites. 16 years ago he found that not all megaliths were used for sepulchral purposes but that many were created for astronomical observations, and even to function as calendars. About the same time he discovered the astronomical significance of the megaliths of Punkri Burwadih, and also that the monument was used to observe the equinoxes and the summer solstice sunrises. He revived the ancient tradition of equinox viewing at this megalithic complex. Hundreds of people from all over the country gather to view the equinox sunrises at Punkri Burwadih twice every year, thus making Punkri Burwadih the only megalithic site in India used today for this phenomenon.
